

Tablet Press PR-2000 Most Popular & Flexible Production

The PTK Tablet Press model, PR2000 is our most popular and flexible production tablet press for contract manufactures supporting automatic tablet weight control and interchangeable turret with complete cam and tooling removal for quicker change overs.

Continuous improvements have yielded an interchangeable turret tablet press, that stands toe to toe with its European rivals at a much more palatable cost. Easily within the reach of aspiring manufacturers, often tasked with the manufacture of lower value products. See why this "Robust, Cost-Efficient" tablet press has been such a success in helping clients move away from older machinery unlocking the potential of high-speed production.
