

Chikki /Kadalai Mittai Packing Machine CK-ZS450/CK-ZS450X

The chikki packing machine is an excellent packaging machine that can be packaged to suit different product specifications. The chikki packing machine is widely used in the packaging of food industry, industrial supplies, daily necessities, toy stationery, plastic products, industrial parts and other items.

The kadalai mittai packing machine is mainly suitable for a variety of solid packaging. For example, biscuits, rice cake, breads, cakes, etc.

Chikki Packing Machine Features:

- ① The packaging environment is hygienic and reliable, no manual intervention is required during the whole packaging process, and the materials in contact with the materials are made of stainless steel, and the drive shaft is also free of lubricating oil. Energy saving, high efficiency.
- ② The chikki packing machine operation is safe and reliable, and the setting parameters are simple and convenient. High degree of automation, controlled by microcontroller and stepper motor.

- ③ The scrap rate is low, and the automatic detection device is installed in the transmission system, which will not allow the empty package to enter the sealing and cutting process, and will automatically stop and remove, which can improve the quality and avoid the waste of the packaging film.
- ④ The chikki packing machine has the function of positioning and stopping. When the package is sealed, the precision is not only accurate, but also the packaging film will not stick to the sealing knife.
- ⑤ The transmission system is simple and stable, which not only realizes one-time discharge, packaging, sealing and cutting, but also improves packaging efficiency.

The kadalai mittai packing machine is a continuous packaging machine with a very strong packaging capacity and suitable for a wide range of food and non-food packaging. It can be used not only for the packaging of unbranded packaging materials, but also for high-speed packaging using reel materials pre-printed with a logo.
